$22 Million- The Art of the Deal Has Changed

"You have to learn the rules of the game and then you have to play better than anyone else." -Albert Einstein.

I am a closer because I use state-of-the-art technology, spend marketing dollars, offer the latest financial structures and up to the minute innovations in helping clients realize their real estate goals. I meet my clients' needs, navigating through today's complex environment with my highly trained staff, all of us dedicated to your success, 24/7/365. I love what I do, and feel what I do matters. Whether a bungalow or an estate, it is the person or family and our journey together that I remember the most, not the business transaction, but the relationship.
